Ladd was born in Kosciusko, Mississippi, on September 22, 1961, to Harlan and Linda Taylor Reynolds. He loved a wide variety of movies, music and sports. Ladd could be caught listening to an arrangement by Chet Atkins or "Take It Easy" by The Eagles. He loved sports ranging from his beloved Bulldogs all the way to the Cubs or the Saints. He was an incredible storyteller with a great memory and would always leave you laughing. He also loved fish and spending time outdoors. His greatest memories were of his time growing up in the East Louisville Baptist church family. The accomplishment that brought him the most pride was his son, Matthew. Listening to his dad and Matthew play guitars together always filled him with joy.

Ladd is survived by his son, Matthew (Emily) Reynolds of Nashville, Tennessee; his mother, Linda Reynolds of Ethel, Mississippi; his sister, Erin (Adam) Rees of Clinton, Mississippi; and his former spouse and friend, Dawn Peterson Reynolds of Starkville. He is also survived by his loving nieces, nephews, other family members, and a host of friends. Ladd was preceded in death by his father, Harlan Reynolds; his brother, David Reynolds; two sisters,

“ My sincere thoughts and prayers are for all of Ladd's family during this time of great loss. He was a special young man fully supporting the music ministry at ELBC during the 70's by singing in the youth choir, as well as with his siblings and father on numerous occasions during our many years together at East Louisville! I'll forever cherish many fond memories of Ladd/ his entire family and thank God for the blessings bestowed upon us during those years. Love you, Ladd!
