“ Wayne was a dear and faithful friend. Fond memories: He gave me my first lesson in cutting drywall; I mentioned one day that I was going to fast in order to start a new diet... he spontaneously decided to fast with me; he rode with me from VT to NJ in order to help a friend he'd never met; he was brilliant, challenging, and hilarious in conversation; I loved studying the Bible with him and considering God's great plan of salvation through Jesus Christ, our Lord. And, of course... board games by phone. Who knew how much fun that could be?
He worked, thought, and played the same way: Hard and Thoroughly.
He will always be my good friend. I can't wait to see him again and sing praises to God forever with him.
