“ Uncle Troy was very special to me and my family. My daughters loved to visit him and Aunt Janice. We loved to hear all of his stories and see all the vegetables he grew. The all time favorite was the delicious corn he shared with us. The girls always called it "Uncle Troy's corn." Love you, Uncle Troy!

“ Troy wanted to get rid of some stray cats on his property but couldn't catch them. He decide to just open the passenger side doors of his car and put some cat food in there and when the cats went in the car to eat the food he just shut the doors and trapped them in there. He then got in the car with them and drove them away from the house. A neighbor told me that he saw Troy driving down the road but couldn't figure out what that was that he saw jumping around and banging into the windows....said Troy was driving around with a bunch of jumping cats in the car but didn't even seem the least bit distracted by them....Said he saw him go by 2 more times with jumping cats in the car.
